DEDICATION

It is with the deepest affection and respect that we dedicate this book to Mr. A. B. McKim who was vice-principal of Ross Sheppard Composite High School at the time of his death, January fifth, 1958.

"Barry" McKim dedicated his life to our well-being, giving of his energy unstintingly on our behalf. In his capacity as vice-principal he counselled and corrected us with justice. During his years at the annex and in our new school he carried many extra-curricular activities. He was a lover of good sport and managed our football teams for years, rallying the student body to their support. Much of the financial success of our year plays was due to the same enthusiasm which he put into the advertising and promotion of ticket sales. Last year, though far from well, he again directed his energies to the furthering of the combined presentation of our Glee Club and Orchestra in "The Night Shall be Filled with Music."

Barry McKim was a lover of good books and spent many out-of-school hours in selecting books for our library.

In World War I Barry McKim served his country in the British Royal Engineers and he continued that service in his chosen field of work until his death in January of this year.

We shall long remember Barry McKim, for "The elements were so mix'd in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man.'"

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

At the close of a business year it is customary to take inventory and to figure out how the business has progressed during the year. This is a good idea for individuals and for schools.

In our first year we have many achievements. The most important one, in my opinion, is the way in which students and staff members have co-operated in the face of many difficulties occasioned by the building situation. The unfinished state of the new building resulted in the school year commencing with part of the Grade XIs in the new building with the Grade XII students, and the balance of them in the Annex with the Grade X students. A shift of this latter group of Grade XI students was made to the new building when the Centre Wing was released.

The "office" in September was partly in the corridor and partly in the Head Caretaker's Room. In October the office moved into a classroom. In mid-January it was finally located in the Administration Wing. The lack of inter-communication system, and lack of automatic bells has created many inconveniences. In spite of these, MUD, crossing from wing to wing outdoors, and many other difficulties too numerous to mention, no teacher or student has complained about inconveniences. The morale of the entire school has been of a very high order, this can result only from good school spirit. To achieve this school spirit in the first year of a new school is a remarkable accomplishment.

We have been given the finest senior high school building imaginable, but a building does not make a school. We have a staff of teachers which we feel to be second to none in the city, but a staff does not make a school. A school, like a business is judged by its product—in our case, the students. What are the students like in and around the school? What does the community think of our students? How do our students fare on examinations? How well do our students succeed at University or in employment, when they leave school? The answers to these questions will determine whether our school is successful or not, whether the shareholders (taxpayers) have a sound investment and whether the investors are getting a fair return on their money. The answers to these questions are determined by YOU, the students.

If you will grant me the privilege of two wishes; First, I would wish that you who are leaving the school would work to the level of your abilities, and Second, I would wish that you who are returning to school would work just as hard to take advantage of the opportunities to obtain an education, as the members of the staff and others, do to provide you with these opportunities.

"THE FUTURE IS A WORLD BOUNDED BY OURSELVES"

—MAETERLINCK

How rarely we consider this forgotten maxim during our daily reveries. However, it is indeed true. Furthermore, it is an irrevocable fact.

What lies between you, a freshman, and a place on a senior team? What lies between you, a sophomore, and a major service award? What lies between you, a graduand, and a scholarship? The answer, similar in all cases, is obvious.

In other words, the only way one can fulfill his or her aspirations is by attempting—and by attempting well enough to succeed.

Before you freshmen lie two of what can be the richest and most rewarding years of your lives. These years will be filled with many new friends, new activities, and new responsibilities, only if you attempt to be a popular and versatile person.

Facing you sophomores is the most significant of all school years; a year to be filled not only with friends and activities, but also with one grave responsibility: senior matriculation. Only by an honest, sincere effort on your part will you succeed; and if you do try honestly and sincerely, you most assuredly will succeed.

A limitless future faces us graduands. Undoubtedly, many will enter university; many will go directly to the business world; and all will eventually become responsible Canadian citizens. In any event, we ourselves will be the only limit to the success of our futures.

We all then face a future that may be filled with various problems, activities, and responsibilities. In concluding I would therefore like to express what is perhaps a corollary to Maeterlinck's philosophy:

Our successes will vary directly as our attempts.

FAREWELL MESSAGE

TO CLASS OF '58

To deliver a farewell message to a senior class is at once a delight and a sadness. We on the teaching staff, and your fellow students, are proud that you have reached this important milestone in your life. However, we are at the same time sad that we will not have the opportunity of associating with you again as a group.

Those among you, who perhaps approached with skepticism your first year of high school, have now learned there is a reward for effort, and that only effort produces a genuine reward. With Longfellow, you now can say with understanding—

“The heights by great men reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight,
But they, while their companions slept
Were toiling upward in the night.”

It is our pleasure, as members of the teaching staff, to share with you, a little of this feeling of achievement.

This has been a memorable year. It has seen the birth of the “Sputnik” and the “Explorer” satellites, and the promise of a trip to the moon. It has seen the birth of Ross Sheppard Composite High School, and the promise of high academic standard and a vivacious school spirit established by the class of 1958.

Those of us you leave behind wish good luck to our first graduating class. Face the future with courage, determination and optimism. May each of you reach his objective and realize his ambition. May you find the way pleasant and the experience rewarding.

JOAN STEWART

*Mr. Chairman;
Members of the Senior Class;
Honored Guests;
Members of the Staff;
Ladies and Gentlemen:*

Today, June 6, 1958, we, the Senior Class, are assembled for the last time. Here, in this huge auditorium of our new school, we begin to realize just how quickly our years at high school have elapsed, and to experience regret at the necessity of leaving all we have grown to love and cherish.

It seems only yesterday, when, as frosh, we first entered the halls of Westglen. Now, three years later, we emerge as Seniors, bountifully enriched by our stay, first at Westglen and now at Ross Sheppard High School. Although not a long period of time, much has been acquired in those three years. From our teachers many things have been learned. We have gained a knowledge of the world, past and present, and achieved an understanding of the languages of some of its countries. Besides this, the art of chemical analysis and mathematical computation have been studied and acquired. Most important of all, we have learned to express ourselves both by pen and by tongue.

However, important as studies may be, we have gained something more than knowledge during our three years sojourn at high school. Friendships have been made; friendships that we hope will last a life time. As Shakespeare said in "Polonius' Advice to His Son:"

"The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;"

From our dances, lits, clubs, and sports activities, we have achieved a feeling of comradeship that we may never experience again in our years ahead. We have worked together, and played together. Now we are to leave together.

But we must remember that this is not the end, it is "Commencement"—the beginning of a new life. For some of us, Commencement heralds a career in the fascinating world of business, whereas for others it marks the entrance to higher learning, either at university or at business school. But whatever we shall be doing, these commencement exercises witness the fact that now we are on our own, ready to do our best in whatever we may attempt.

Just as June 6, 1944 marked the beginning of the Allies supreme counter-attack against the Axis power in Europe, so does this June sixth, fourteen years later signify our entrance into the affairs of humanity. We, as men and women, will "Take up the torch" and carry forward into this world of ours all that we have acquired during the years; all the rich rewarding experiences of our high school career.

It shall be our duty to enlighten the unfortunate, aid the poor, and overcome strife and discontent, not only in our community but anywhere in the world. It shall be our responsibility to create a pattern of the right way to live, so that others may follow our example.

We are now ready to engrave our stamp in the history of mankind; and what could be a better time for this! Right now, the pace of man's achievements is rapidly accelerating. Canada is constantly gaining recognition as a great nation of the world. What better place to test our laurels than in this rich, prosperous country of ours!

Yet it is with deep regret that we leave the portals of this infant school. A school that in the brief period of our acquaintance has become dear to our hearts. We will never forget the joys and triumphs we have experienced within her walls.

And, so as night follows day, the time has come to say good-bye and to look with anticipation towards the unknown to come. I am deeply honoured that the privilege of saying these parting words to the first Senior Class of Ross Sheppard High School has been given to me. May we always remember that many classes will follow in the years to come. Let us be humble and grateful that we are privileged to lead such an illustrious parade.

CLASS HISTORY

JEAN UNGARIAN

Among our fondest memories that we'll treasure in the years to come are those of our high school days. There are, of course, some unpleasant memories, such as homework, detentions and defeats that would best be forgotten. But on the other hand, someday we'll look back to dances, lits, football and basketball games and recall what a fun-filled time we spent in high school.

It seems as if it were yesterday that we first stood and contemplated the big white building which housed that world of mystery and intrigue, that world of adventure—that world of senior high school. Slowly we edged into the building and gaped wide-eyed, struck dumb with incredulity, hardly believing we were here at last.

Those first few weeks were confusing and we were in utter misery. Gradually the seniors discarded their air of supremacy and one by one spoke to us. Such endearing terms as "Frosh", "Lunkhead" and "Idiot child" were heaven-sent messages to our eager ears. Soon after, we discovered at the frosh day and dance in our honour that the senior students, much to our disbelief, were actually human beings.

We had a hand in electing Rod Tweddle President of the Students' Union and Pat Drake Queen of Hearts that first year. Some of us were fortunate enough to be a part of Miss Mersereau's production of "George Washington Slept Here". Do you remember some of the scenes from the play such as John Côté as the lovable Mr. Kimber who sat in the middle of the stage and sang "I'll Never Smile Again"? Or Peter Hyndman leaping ungracefully over a lounge as the naughty Raymond? And what about Helene Aspestrand as Greta who ran on the stage yelling, "Mister Fuller! D'ere's a horse in da keetchan!" Keith Bredo and Ron Reimer also played roles in Westglen's last year play. There were Judy Williams, Betty Lou Archibald, Sylvia Gerke, Bill Johnson, Bill Meloff, Lynn Robertson, Dianne Dickson, Sharon Marfleet, Pat Bredo and countless others who worked behind the scenes to help make the play successful.

We returned the following fall as old "pros" at the game of high school and elected Eliot Phillipson President of the Students' Union. Tracey McLaren "em-ceed" our first lit of the season which featured a skit entitled "The Lamp Went Out." During our last year at Westglen, Joan Myers was crowned Queen of Hearts at the Sweetheart Ball. Our first dress-up day was a huge success as was the annual Career Day. Mr. Graham of the AMA gave a talk on safe-driving prior to a lit in January which featured the Drama classes. A basketball game in February which saw Dennis Frazer as one of Westglen's notorious boy cheerleaders was followed by a sock hop.

"And the Night Shall be Filled with Music" last spring attested to the success of our Symphony Orchestra and the newly-organized Glee Club. Participating in a nation-wide Christmas broadcast the Glee Club was directed by Miss Parker while Mr. Newlove conducted the Orchestra.

Sportswise, the girls shone by capturing the Senior Girls' City Volleyball championship while the Juniors finished in second place. The Senior Girls' basketball team finished in top spot that season but was eliminated in the finals.

Last fall we returned as the hardened, experienced and wise individuals known as high school seniors. Joe Clarke was voted into office as President of the Students' Union and we kicked off our final year at the new Ross Sheppard Composite High School. Although the building was incomplete and we had many a harrowing experience dodging the tourn-a-pull tractors on the parking lot, we soon settled to a life of hard work and unceasing toil. Naturally this didn't last long and we were soon busy trying to find ways of amusing ourselves.

Our first lit was presented in January with a skit on the Students' Executive stealing the show. A dance at Christmas called "Mistletoe Madness" and a Valentine formal called "Swaying Silhouettes" were both tremendous successes.

In the "spot light" Ross Sheppard made its debut as a strong contender in city-wide contests. The Senior Girls' Basketball team copped the city title and the Hudson's Bay Trophy while the Senior Boys won the CAPHER trophy. John Trout skipped the winning team of Bill Wilson, Bruce Walker and Doug Grant to win the Harold Kline Curling trophy during the Christmas holidays. The same team except for Trout who was replaced by Bob Bradburn won the Northern Alberta Zone finals in the Taylor and Pearson High School Bonspiel.

In the extra-curricular activity department the Booster Club was formed early this semester. The Drama Club under the direction of Miss Mersereau was re-organized and a Political Science Club was formed later this year. The Orchestra and Glee Club both performed at the Jubilee Auditorium and joined forces in presenting a spring recital in May.

We did many other things during our high school days which will remain etched forever in our minds. And as you will remember this day, this very moment, so do I wish that you will never forget your happiest hours and the memory of these past few years.

CLASS PROPHECY

In March of this year, 1968, an important and secret meeting of the Revolutionaries who are trying to Ross Sheppardize the U.S.S.R. was held. A few reporters were smuggled into the Russian base of the organization to witness it. We discovered a spacious, airy, and seemingly sunny enclosure, hidden beneath a farm owned by former Ross Sheppardite Bill McIntosh, and were informed that the entire structure had been designed by and built under the direction of such famous engineers as Brian Sharp, Bob Ball, Jim Chase, Larry Bourk, Dave Byce, Dick MacDonald, Barrie Peterson, Dick Pitfield, Dennis Johnson, John Goos, Doug Grant, John Neal, Bill Meloff, Gilbert Stuart, Alan Trammel, Tarrnie Williams, Bill Wilson, Jake Vaneldik, and Lewis Vermeulen. Within are complete laboratories, staffed by scientists Joan Stewart, Geraldine Wilson, Barb Downs, and lab technicians Moira Sheane, Brian Strecker, Zelda Margolis and Margaret Shand, in conjunction with Home Economic experts Marilyn Gilpin and Gerda Nielson, plus biologists, zoologists, and agriculturalists Ernie McKeever, Ralph Gunderson, Russ Sage, Norm Reynolds, and Laurie-Anne Campbell who work on chemical foods for the hungry community. Their extremely competent hospital is under the direction of Doctors Jim Anderson, Dennis Frazer, and Brian Funnell, who are aided by nurses Pat Bredo, Margaret Calvert, Esther Clark, Anne Dodds, Linda Disler, Donna Davidson, Brenda Polson, Sally Ramsey, Corrine Hutchison, Sonja Heney, Judi Stanford, Carol McAdam, Carol McGarvey, Marilyn MacDonald, Sharon Marfleet, Saralee Holden, Michelle Jespersen, Betty Wall, Joan Waddington, Esther Nielson, Leonora Pegg, Diane Belyea, Daphne Braybrook, Faye Bacon, Helene Aspestrand, and Carol Lee Archibald. The Hospital can also lay claim to such specialists as physiotherapists, Marj. Aylen, Dianne Dickson, and Judy Pulton, pharmacists Judy Scott, and Dan Hamar, X-ray technician Bea Mason and psychologist Serena Phillet.

The community school, under teachers Paul Claydon, Lorraine Davidson, Bonnie Shaw, Ted Robinson, Wilma Vaneldik, and Joan Patch, trains the children to take their place in the secret society.

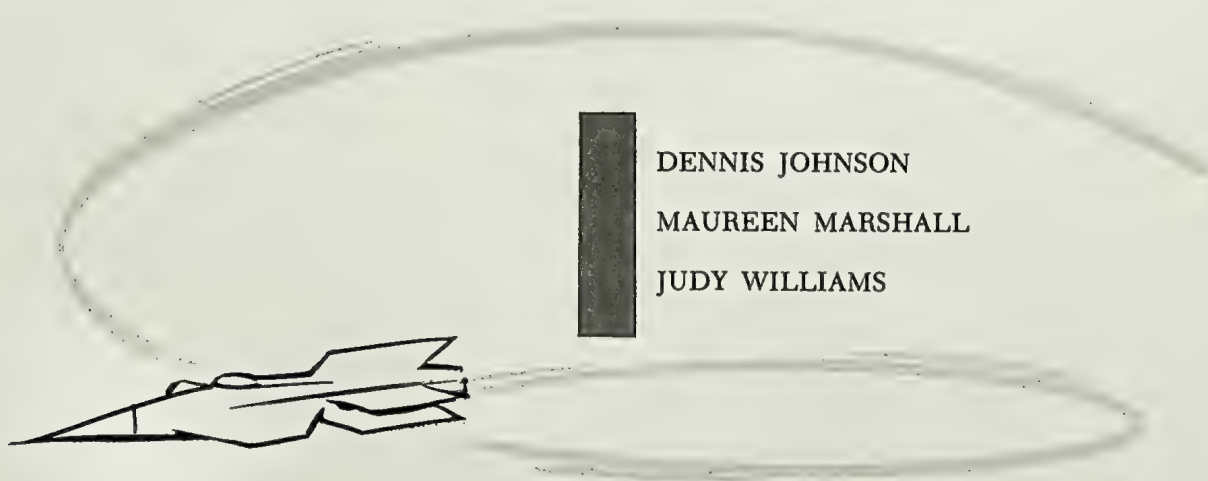

From the technical centre, we advanced to the offices. After receptionist Pat Holland had introduced us to secretaries Carole Wright, Lorna Little, Joanne Coombes, and Margo Draper, Chartered Accountants Fred Nudd, Arch Stewart, Al Graham, Glen Rundle, Cliff Small, and Bob Dinning, and Business Administrators Vince Ciochetti, John Ramsey, Dale Lockhart and Craig Magill, we advanced to the inner office, which we found guarded by such military and naval personages as Gerald Taylor, Terry Thom, Tom Proctor, Gary Pederson, and Bob Pettinger. Finally we met the brains of the revolution, Joe Clarke and Peter Hyndman, in an office decorated by Michelle Dahlgren and Coleen Speers. Upon the walls were paintings by world-famous Maria Flak. The two leaders were surrounded by well-known legal authorities John Côté, Dennis Cowan, Mike McCaughan, Bill Johnston, Mike Yaren, Larry Wickenberg, and George Oake, commercial experts Don O'Sullivan, Don Williamson, and David Grant, and international spy, Milt Wigglesworth.

From them we learned that funds for the revolution were being donated by millionaires John Aalborg, Ian Charles, Rudy Caspar, Ken Petruk, Maurice Tominuk, Judy Williams, and Jean Ungarian. The telephone interrupted our conversation. On the other end meteorologist June Kaybidge announced that the weather was clear, and that the planes were coming in. We moved in a body to the airport where we met the president of the aircraft corporation Kent Slater, and aeronautical engineers Nick Michas and Ken Huff, and watched air control operator Brian Morrow make communication with pilots Don Fender, Don Hanson, Don Watson, Bill Brockie, and Bob Dyck, who aided by stewardesses Barbara Rogerson, Jane Heath, Nan Hilchie, Lorette Torpy, Pat Wilson, and Elaine McKay, were bringing in planes loaded with passengers bound for the meeting.

Among those present, we recognized such famous personages as musicians John Ross, Phil Anderson, Bill Charnetski, Lynne Flewwelling, and Dunc Wade, Academy Award winner Lynn Robertson, members of the continental set like Rita Brick, Doug Cook, Jan Esopenko, Nick Pitoulis, Pauline Kay, Karen Grove, Marilyn Millard, Joanne Tremblay, Hope Palmer, and Dorothy Paul, and, unofficially, diplomats June Leitch, Gail Finland, Diane MacLean, Bill Andrew, and Linda Dale. Sports figures fresh from the Olympics, including Keith Blanchett, Mort Wyne, Betty "Boo" Archibald, Robby Hall, Gerrie Hood and Pete Nash, famous curler John Trout, and car jockeys Mike Campbell, Rick Campbell and Gary Marshall were also in evidence. Other journalists such as Sylvia Gerke and Mary-Jane Ward, with photographer Munro Mobberly, were taking it all in. In evidence also, all incommunicable, were such world renowned personages as Joanne Davidson, Fred Ingaldson, Thelma Cameron, Selma Tallman, Pete Taylor, Carolle Tremblay, Sue McQuillan, Naomi Polson, Alan Gerard, Joe Halldorson, Doreen Olson, Dieter Queck, Peter Carpenter, Linda Claydon, Paul Brownstein, Joe Anwyll, Ian Barrigan, Sherrie Perkins, John Visser, Brian Coggles, and Allan Brooks. The next morning, the meeting over, the planes left, this time with us aboard, quite certain that with the enthusiasm this group had shown, all their projects would be successful.

SENIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

COMPOSITE HIGH SCHOOL

1958

The activities of the Senior Class of 1958 were very ably directed by the Senior Class Executive:

Staff Adviser	Miss M. A. Staples	Vice-President	Dennis Johnson
President	Dennis Frazer	Secretary	Anne Dodds
	Council Representative	Joan Stewart
Class Representatives
Mike Campbell	Marilyn Millard	Jean Ungarian
Lee Holden	Sally Ramsey	Don Williamson

One of the largest tasks facing the Senior Class Executive was that of ordering graduation pins and rings. Orders were taken during a two week period, and the rings and pins arrived early in May. The design of the rings and pins was most pleasing.

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

The Commencement Ceremonies for the Senior Class of 1958 were held on the afternoon of Friday, June 6, in our recently opened auditorium. Highlight of the ceremonies was a presentation of a gift to the school from the Senior Class by Dennis Frazer. Also included during the afternoon's activities was the presentation of awards to award winners for the 1957-1958 school year. Following the ceremonies, the Students' Union sponsored a tea in the cafeteria.

BANQUET AND DANCE

The Senior Class Banquet and Dance was held this year at the Alberta Jubilee Auditorium. The Banquet commenced at 6:30 on the evening of June 6.

BANQUET PROGRAMME

Grace Mr. Wagner

Toastmaster	Dennis Frazer	Piano Solo	Sally Ramsey
Toast to the Queen	Toastmaster	Toast to the Senior Class	Penny Campbell
Toast to the School	Peter Hyndman	Response	Lee Holden
Response	Mr. A. E. Henderson	Class Historian	Jean Ungarian
	Honorary President's Remarks	Mr. P. Smart

The Banquet concluded at 8:30. At 9:00 the Senior Class Dance commenced, and lasted through an enjoyable evening until 12:00.

Patrons and Patronesses for the evening were:

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wagner      Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Henderson      Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Frazer

The activities of June 6, 1958, will be long and pleasantly remembered by all members of the Senior Class of 1958. The Senior Class Executive deserves great credit for a well planned year.

STUDENTS' EXECUTIVE

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

With this term, 1957-58, the people of Edmonton have seen the birth of a new academy—Ross Sheppard High School. In this our birth year, we have already made our school renowned throughout the province.

We fought for school spirit in the "Battle of the Annex"; we won on the grid-irons; we won on the courts; we curled our way into the provincial finals and swam into the winners circle. In our first year we formed new clubs, and maintained those founded in Westglen High School. After months of constructive debating, we adopted a school emblem—the Thunderbird. We designed and purchased school sweaters. We adopted a Korean orphan through correspondence.

Our achievements in this our first endeavour have been many, but let us not rest on our laurels. Don't look back, but look to the future and plan your strategy. Elect honest, competent officers to your Executive and Council, for they will make or break your year's activities. Above all, give them your support. Don't sit back and be left out of things—get up and help out!

CLUB REPORTS

Orchestra Overtones

The Junior and Senior Orchestras this year numbered eighty-one members and were again successfully directed by Mr. T. V. Newlove. In the first year as the Ross Sheppard Orchestra, credits were offered to band members on experimental basis.

Combining its talents with the Glee Club in November, the Orchestra presented a concert in the Christmas mood for the Grade 10 students. The Orchestra, which boasts everything from a baton to a bass played at the City and District Teachers' Convention held at the Jubilee Auditorium in February.

The second annual spring recital ran for two evenings in May with the Orchestra again sharing top billings with the Glee Club. On May 18th, approximately all the band members boarded chartered buses for a jovial jaunt to Lacombe where they performed at the School Boys' Band Convention.

Elections of Orchestra executive members were conducted in mid-semester with David Grant waltzing his way to the presidency. Lynne Flewelling was heralded into her office as vice-president amid a flurry of off-key trumpet notes. Bill McIntosh delighted in running his talented fingers through Orchestra funds as club treasurer while Saralee Holden covered the musical beat as publicity director. Joanne Marsh and Betty McIntosh conducted their duties in harmony as librarians.

1957-58 was a very prosperous and highly successful year for Ross Sheppard's first and finest symphony orchestra.

Stamp Club Postmarks

During the year, the Stamp and Coin Club has endeavored to assist its members in getting more than plain pride out of their collections. To achieve this purpose, the members have examined each other's collections and quizzes on stamps have been conducted. Among the activities were stamp-trading sessions and stamp-display preparations.

Mr. Newlove was the driving force behind the club, giving much valuable advice and encouragement. Also, Mr. Fowler brought his fascinating collection for examination.

Coins and bank notes were also discussed and shown. A display of these items was also included in the club's program.

President Bill Andrew was assisted by secretary, Gilbert Stuart in advancing the Stamp and Coin Club in 1957-58.

Glee Club Glimpses

Ross Sheppard has come a long way in the field of music, and a great deal of credit goes to the teachers who are responsible for its advancement. Starting from "scratch" last year, Miss Parker coaxed, babied, nursed and rehearsed her group of aspiring vocalists into an excellent mixed chorus. Like the Orchestra, the Glee Club practised several times weekly and received credits for practical instruction.

After a grade 10 "Lit" with the Orchestra in November, the Club met another capacity audience at the Teachers' Convention. The group entertained the members attending the Provincial Home and School Association Convention at Convocation Hall, University Campus early in May. They again joined forces with the Orchestra later that month to present the Second Annual Spring Recital.

Ask anyone who has heard the melodious harmony that drifted through the halls during noon hours, and they'll tell you that this has been a great year for music at Ross Sheppard.

Booster Club Bits

Something new and entirely successful was incorporated this year at Ross Sheppard. A group which calls itself the Booster Club has contributed much to the spirit and colour of school functions. With such activities as cheering at football and basketball games, making posters, selling tickets, printing and writing school yells the group became increasingly more active as the year progressed.

Executive members were Hope Palmer, president; Dennis Johnson, vice-president; and Sheila McCallum, secretary. Grade representatives were Penny Mitchell, Mike Clement, Carol Pettypiece, and Don Williamson. Kae Powers was poster committee chairman.

Political Science Club Propaganda

A somewhat unique but highly popular organization came into being about mid-term. With membership in the fifties, the Political Science Club has been very active this year.

Although the main objective of the club was to encourage public speaking and debating, the Club's activity assisted in familiarizing members with Canadian politics. The organization of a students' parliament and speakers on politics made up the bulk of Club activities.

President of the group was Brian Coggles with Neil Henry filling the vice-president's position. Corinne Hutchison was secretary-treasurer.

Drama Club Curtain Calls

Prevented from producing a yearplay because of the insufficiency in the number of male members, the Drama Club nevertheless had an active year's operation.

Beginning with the study of pantomime, the group, which was under the direction of Miss Grace Mersereau, went on to study skits and make-up technique. After a guided tour through the Jubilee Auditorium, the Club read the three-act play "Three Men on a Horse". A party, key-noted by the atmosphere of the stage, brought down the curtains, on a successful year's activity.

Chess Club Chatter

A comparatively small but nonetheless active group has been meeting regularly at noon hours throughout the school year. The main activity of the members is to sit contemplating a checked board on which several uniform objects are placed. Presently one of the members may stir, reach out a confident hand, make a move, and then return to rest. This activity continues for hours. They say the game is highly invigorating and is great exercise—for the brain!

Ross Sheppard Badminton Club

The Badminton Club resumed operation in October under the leadership of Richard Pitfield, president. The Badminton Club was ably assisted by Mr. Clark and Miss Nicol who acted as staff advisors. Badminton was played every Thursday after school and Friday at noon in the gymnasium by members of this club.

During February, a tournament was held within the school which proved to be very successful. The winners were Richard Pitfield, Boys' Singles; Louise McManus, Girls' Singles; Louise McManus and Terry Myles, Mixed Doubles; Richard Pitfield and Ian Pitfield, Boys' Doubles; Louise McManus and Gail Finland, Girls' Doubles. These winners played on the inter-school team along with Sherry Elniski, and Lance Richard. The inter-school tournament was held during the week of April 20th, Ross Sheppard placed second.

Best of luck to the Badminton Club and may they have another successful session next year.

Curling

Ross Sheppard had possibly the largest school curling club in the city. President of the club was Bob Sage, and Pat Breddo was secretary-treasurer. The rest of the executive were Ken Petruk, Dianne Dickson, Doug Grant, and Bill Wilson.

The club curls both at the Royal and the Crestwood. Out of the curling club came three top rinks. John Trout's foursome of John, Doug Grant, Bill Wilson, Bruce Walker; and Ken Petruk's rink of Bob Sage, Don Fender, and Al Sharp finished one-two in the Harold Kline High School Bonspiel. Doug Grant skipped the school team into the Taylor-Pearson provincial finals in Calgary. The rest of the rink was: third, Bill Wilson, second, Bob Bradburn, and lead, Bruce Walker.

Political Science

Ross Sheppard has seen many firsts this year, among them is the Political Science Club. The main aims of the club are to encourage public speaking and debating, to familiarize students with parliamentary debate and procedure, to annually sponsor a Student Parliament, to arouse political consciousness among the students, and to acquaint students with the political parties of Canada.

The executive is made up of President, Brian Coggles, Vice-President, Neil Henry, Secretary, Corinne Hutchison, and Parliament Chairman, Peter Hyndman. The club's sponsor is Mr. Clarke.

The three main projects of the club are a Students' Parliament, a Toastmasters' Club, and a Debating Team.

The club experienced a very successful first year.

I.S.C.F.

The I.S.C.F., sponsored this year by Miss McRae, has had another successful year. Under the leadership of President Phil Anderson and Secretary Donna Stewart, the members enjoyed films, speakers, and the studying of Bible passages at their weekly meetings.

SPORT HAPPENINGS 1957-58

Boys' Sports

Looking back over the past year in sports, we can conclude that it has, all in all, been a good season for the various teams bearing the Ross Sheppard banner.

The football teams got the season rolling, but that was about all they were able to accomplish. The seniors, under the able hand and watchful eye of Earl Lindley, managed to finish one step out of the basement. Nevertheless, they were a fighting crew and they represented our new school very well. Coached by Jack Switzer and Jim Hault, the junior team fared little better. The young hands were willing, the desire was there, but the touchdowns were not. Most of the players will return next year, so the only thing left to do is repeat the old Westglen standby, "There's always next season."

The senior basketball team did very well for itself this year. Mr. Fairbanks produced a well-rounded team with lots of hustle. They won the C.A.P.H.E.R.'s. trophy in the pre-season tournament, and were first to donate something to the new trophy cabinet. Save for a mid-season slump, they might have won the championship. However, they had to settle for third place. The junior contingent dropped two close games that might have made the difference, and finally finished in fourth place.

The brightest star in the Ross Sheppard Galaxy seemed to be the curlers. Under John Trout, the school representatives walloped all competition to bring another trophy to our school. With much the same team, Doug Grant won the Northern Alberta High School Championship, only to be beaten out of the Alberta finals by Bernie Sparks of Claresholm.

With a very short practice period, the swim team fared very well, and finished third, behind Scona Comp. and Vic, both of which have swimming pools. There were some very impressive swimmers on the team this year, all of whom helped to place Ross Sheppard so high in the final standings.

Three teams, one from each grade, represented our school in the volleyball tournament. The grade twelve team dropped out in the finals as did the grade ten contingent. The grade elevens, last year's grade ten champs, again ran up a string of victories to walk off with the city championship.

Ross Sheppard's fiery badminton team played very hard and well in the tourney held at Scona Composite, only to once again be bridesmaids, finishing second, one game behind Victoria.

Track and field is the only remaining interscholastic event. We certainly have had absolutely nothing to complain about this far, and the future looks even brighter.

AL OLSON

Girls' Sports

The girls started the year on the right foot by winning the City Senior Basketball Championship. Houseleague basketball flourished under the coaching of the champs.

Their counterpart of the Jr. league showed signs of becoming a contender, but faded from the first division.

Although the girls had a lot of fun playing houseleague, senior and junior volleyball, they did not enjoy much success in their inter-school games.

From all indications, Ross Sheppard should furnish strong teams in both the track and field and baseball divisions of girls' sports.

CITIZENSHIP AWARD WINNER

Joe Clarke, Mr. Henderson (Principal).

For academic standing, school leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities, the first citizenship award of Ross Sheppard Composite High was presented to Joe Clarke.

Joe was born in the Edmonton Royal Alex Hospital on September 20, 1940. He attended Oliver Elementary School in grades one and two. Grades three to six were taken at Glenora and from there Joe moved on to Westminster Junior High where he was an Honor Student in Grade IX. At Westglen, Joe won academic awards in grades X and XI. This year, Joe, who was president of the Students' Union, won major academic, service and athletic awards.

Joe is particularly interested in football. He played in the Bantam Football League in grade IX, junior football in grade X and senior football in grades XI and XII.

Joe is a member of Hi-Y and the Students' United Nations Club. He plays the piano and works at Safeway in his spare time.

To do well in whatever he does is Joe's ambition. His past accomplishments indicate he is well on his way to fulfilling this ambition.

Having confidence in Joe, we know that his footsteps will be imprinted in the sands of time, and our best wishes go with him on his journey.

The task of producing a Yearbook of this type is a tremendous one indeed, and at this time we would like to express our sincere gratitude to all those who through their time and energies helped make the 1958 Courier a success.

We are particularly indebted to many people within the school. Mrs. Silcox, Miss Hardy, and Miss Simpson of the Publications Board were most generous in their assistance. Miss Manser provided wise and valuable counselling. Mr. Henderson was most co-operative.

Our special thanks go also to Mrs. Waight in the office, who at so many times helped us to success.

Many students within the school are also deserving of thanks: the artists, the writers, the typists, and those who so earnestly solicited advertisements.

Of course, those who have advertised in the Courier are deserving of special mention, for they make this book fundamentally possible; they are therefore most worthy of your patronage and support.

Mr. C. A. Ernst and his friendly staff at Goertz Studio's gave us splendid co-operation; their fine photography speaks for itself.

The Hamly Press Company and in particular Mr. Jack McCallum deserve our thanks for the many hours of assistance they rendered us in producing this book.

It is our sincere wish that next year's Yearbook staff will be as fortunate as we have been in the production of our book; it is our sincere hope that through this contribution we have added a definite asset to school life at Ross Sheppard in 1958.

Once again, to all those people who aided us in ways large or small, we would like to say, simply and sincerely—"thanks."
